 - Mary presented a talk about Round-Abouts in light of a new one going in at Longhorn and McLane.
 - The pro’s are that they are the safest uncontrolled intersection, there are no left turns, there are less right away conflicts, traffic is slowed down and traffic flow is increased
 - Rules of Round- Abouts
 - Approaching traffic must yield to traffic already in the Round-About (yield is clearly marked)
 - Never stop to let traffic in
 - Use your turn signal to notify your turn out of the Round-About.
 - In a multilane one, turn into your needed lane when entering. Move to the right lane for exits 1 or 2, left lane for exiting 2nd or 3rd street before you exit
 - If you miss your exit go around again
 - Dave Pattino explained about how to properly stop for crosswalks
 - Yellow crosswalks mean you must wait for pedestrians to completely exit the crosswalk before moving
 - White crosswalks mean you can move once the pedestrian has cleared your lane

Thomas stayed overnight and spent several hours at Tom Jacobson’s garage the next day.
