PRESIDENT

Fuel for Thought

Even though our first thought of our Club is as a car club, we must acknowledge that we are also a social club, in fact, quite a few social clubs.

The men in the Club have several, the 'Donut Derelicts', the Thursday morning "wrench crankers", the Friday morning Pine members, and probably others we don't know about!

The women have the Thursday morning 'Bosa Babes', which, I guess, takes the place of the WOW luncheons. We've also started a 'chick flick' group for those movies we want to see but don't want to drag our husbands to see.

I find this exciting, that our Club has divergent factions of like-minded people to socialize with and enjoy their camaraderie.

Getting back to the Club as a car club, we do begin nominations for the 2019 Board at the September meeting. There are quite a few spots that need filling. I will be stepping down as president as will a few others from their roles on the Board.

We will also be voting on 10 charities to donate $1,000 to each one. This is so gratifying and so well worth the effort of the car show.

Hope we have a good turn-out for the meeting, there's lots of stuff going on that needs your input.

September in Automotive History

September 3, 1875 Prolific automotive engineer Ferdinand Porsche is born in what is now known as the Czech Republic. Apart from founding Porsche, Ferdinand is credited with countless innovations in engine design, designing the Mercedes Benz SS/SSK. He also lent his talents to Volkswagen, credited as the main designer of the Volkswagen Beetle.

September 4, 1917 Henry Ford II aka Hank The Deuce was born, the oldest of Henry Ford's grandchildren. Hank was president of Ford for 15 years and became CEO for nearly twenty additional years. Most notably, Ford Motor Company went public in 1956 while Hank was CEO.

September 5, 1885 Sylvanus Bowser manufactures the first gasoline pump in Fort Wayne, Indiana and delivers it to a grocer in Fort Wayne. The pump is designed for kerosene and other liquid fuel, less than 20 years later the world would see its first drive in gasoline station in Pennsylvania, PA.

September 7, 1979 In need of a $1.5 billion loan from the government, Chrysler Corporation receives a gargantuan taxpayer bailout that precedes the 2008 auto crisis by nearly 30 years.

September 10, 1897 George W. Smith crashes an electric taxi cab in London while intoxicated, becoming the first person to ever be arrested for drunken driving. He pled guilty and was forced to pay a relatively small fine of 25 shillings.

September 13, 1899 Henry Bliss is struck and killed by an automobile in NYC, becoming the first known pedestrian to be killed by a moving vehicle.

September 16, 1908 General Motors is incorporated as GM by William Crapo Durant. Durant was majority controller of Buick at the time, and GM was setup primarily as a holding company for Buick.

September 17th, 1964 The James Bond flick "Goldfinger" debuts, giving the world their first view of James Bond's famous Aston Martin DB5.

September 25, 1926 Henry Ford cuts the work day to 8 hours and doubles his workers pay. Somehow, this increased productivity at his factories and the 40 hour work week was born.

September 29, 1987 Henry "Hank The Deuce" Ford II, grandson of Ford Motor Company Henry Ford dies.

September 30, 1955 Famous Hollywood actor James Dean dies in a car crash while traveling to a racing competition. Dean was only 24 years old. Pictured above is Dean in his Porsche several months before his untimely death.
